

Parts of My Body

Pre-Kindergarten

The parts a small child can point to on themselves.

Every one of these is on you right now. Point to each one as you say its name.

- Head — on top, where your hair grows.
- Eyes — two of them, for seeing.
- Ears — two of them, for hearing.
- Nose — one, in the middle, for smelling.
- Mouth — for eating, talking and singing.
- Arms and hands — for reaching and holding.
- Legs and feet — for walking, running and jumping.

LOOK FOR IT

Sing 'Head, shoulders, knees and toes' and touch each part as it comes.

Two of some, one of others. Count them together.
