

Storage

Practical skills

Organising storage so things can actually be found again.

The principles that make storage stay organised.

Placement

Daily items between knee and eye height

Heavy things low

Rarely used up high

Store near the point of use

Containers

Clear or labelled — always

Square stacks better than round

Consistent sizes

Do not fill to the top

Maintenance

One home per item

Return it after use

Review annually

Empty space is not wasted space

Label the shelf as well as the box. The label tells you where it goes back, not just what is inside.
